Council staff pull the most sickies in UK

EXCLUSIVE

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

STAFF at Luton Borough Council take more days off sick than any other council in the country.

The 3,218 Town Hall employees were off for an average of 13.38 working days each last year, meaning a total of 43,056.84 days were lost to illness - or the equivalent of 170 years in working days.

The cost is around £2.6 million in staff wages.

More than 100 sick days were taken off by council employees in 2009 for 'addictions'.

The council would not release the figures without a Freedom of Information request by Luton on Sunday.

Luton Borough Council is by far the worst offenders with neighbouring Central Bedfordshire Council clocking up a mere 9.43 days in comparison.

Staff at Luton could well be the worst in the entire country, with figures showing the next highest offender as Craven District Council with 12.61 days.

The figure for the private sector is an average of 5.8 days.

5,397 days were taken of by Luton staff for mental health conditions while 11,451 were missed because of musculoskeletal conditions. Respiratory conditions, such as colds, meant another 8,524 days were taken off.

A Luton Borough Council spokeswoman said: "Luton has a particularly efficient process for recording sickness which, we believe, is more efficient than most other councils and it's important to remember that figures can be very misleading."

"In fact, because we monitor sickness records very closely, we know most of our staff have an excellent sickness record and a few serious long-term sickness cases have skewed our overall figures."

"The council's new chief executive, Trevor Holden, is also taking an active interest in the levels of sickness and is working with Heads of Service to explore ways of further improving the short-term sickness levels."

Senior council officers were meeting on Friday to address the issue.

A Taxpayers' Alliance spokeswoman said: "These figures from Luton Borough Council are just incredible, even compared to other local authorities who always eclipse the private sector when it comes to the number of days lost through illness."

■ One employee is showing the way and has not had a day off sick in nearly half a century.

Margaret Wiggett, who was awarded an MBE in 1995, has worked as a lollipop lady for Stopsley Primary School in Hitchin Road for 45 years but has never called in sick.

Her only days off have been for a cataract operation in 2002 and a week of bereavement when husband Bob died in 1985 - but she returned to work the day after his funeral.

Father's agony after decision not to strike off Nikki's doc

FORMER Luton on Sunday saleswoman Nikki Sams was only 26 when her life was tragically snatched away from us in August 2007.

On Wednesday Dr Navin Shankar, the GP who failed to spot her cervical cancer eight times, was told he was allowed to carry on practising.

Yesterday - exactly three years to the day since Nikki died - her devastated father, Mike Sams, branded the decision by a professional panel not to strike him off 'outrageous'.

The 55-year-old, from Luton, said:

"Every day is the same - Nikki's not here any more. Our pain will never heal. This is not closure."

"We've got to go through this life, but for Dr Shankar there's no punishment at all. The severity of what he's done has got to match up with the severity of the punishment given to him - but in this case it hasn't."

"It's outrageous and totally unacceptable."

■ Turn to page 3 to read more of heartbroken Mr Sams' reaction to the decision.

Council staff sickies included 'burn out' and 'genital injury'

LETHARGY, stiffness and a broken tooth are among the reasons given for council staff sickies, costing the taxpayers more than £2m in a year.

Central Bedfordshire Council employees took off an average 9.43 days last year – meaning a total of 24,659 working days were lost to illness – the equivalent of nearly 98 working years.

Examples of the reasons why staff were off sick have now emerged. The list includes: hayfever, relationship problems, a stiff neck, wheezing, tennis elbow, bruising, burn out and a genital injury.

Cllr Maurice Jones (right) said: "As part of its general duty of care to employees, Central Bedfordshire Council has in place robust procedures and guidelines to support staff and manage sickness absence, so colleagues are as fit and healthy as they can be and continue to provide services to local people. "When staff do go off sick we have rigorous monitoring procedures in place to help minimise the length of time and frequency of sickness and also to reduce any associated costs."

Town's Lib Dems are not backing city bid

BY LUI STRACCIA
lui.straccia@Lutononsunday.co.uk

LIBERAL Democrats are not supporting Luton's city status bid – but they are over in Milton Keynes.

The Party's 17-strong contingent at Luton Borough Council is sceptical as to the benefits of trying to upgrade the town's official standing at a cost of £50,000.

But that is clearly not the case at nearby Milton Keynes, where 22 Lib Dem councillors have given its proposals the thumbs-up.

Last month Luton North's Labour MP Kelvin Hopkins hosted a special event in Westminster to launch the official city status bid, with town chiefs forecasting a £5 billion potential windfall if it is successful.

Lib Dem leader David Franks said: "We do understand city status bid would bring some prestige, no doubt.

"At a time when the council is cutting back on services for children and older people, is this the right time to spend large sums of money on a city status bid? It is £50,000 for this year, and it could well be more next year to put the case to the Government."

But this week Lib Dem councillor Andy Strange said: "When we are dealing with public money, we're asking the question of whether this should be a priority for the council.

"MK is a completely different town to Luton. I'm not sure you can make a direct comparison. If they think it's a good idea over there, then they think it's a good idea.

"We are questioning this not because we don't want to promote

MP Kelvin Hopkins (right) at the bid launch last month

Luton – that would be ridiculous."

The council's Labour leader, Hazel Simmons, said: "Feedback from recent new cities is that city status is potentially worth billions to the local economy through inward investment.

"Sunderland lists its advantages as 30,000 additional jobs created, with inward investment reported at £5 billion.

"Newport has become a sporting city and has seen the Ryder Cup brought to the town."

Supermarket sweeps away car park fines

CUSTOMERS who were wrongly fined for parking at a supermarket because of a mix-up will all be given refunds.

Cameras record the time vehicles enter and leave Aldi's car park in Church Street, Dunstable, which has a one-hour free time limit.

But last month drivers were fined during the introductory period for the new parking system – even though they should have been exempt while they 'got used' to it.

Michael Berry, 60, of Woodside, Eaton Bray, was one such customer. He visited the store on July 5 and stayed for only 48 minutes, which should have left him with 12 minutes to spare.

Like many others, he did not realise he had to enter his car's registration into a terminal to activate the free hour.

Car park management firm Parking Eye then sent Mr Berry a letter ordering him to pay a fine, which he did.

But, having lodged a complaint, Mr Berry has had his money refunded.

Mr Berry said: "I did get the money back but there must be hundreds of people who have had to pay fines unnecessarily.

"I was told by Aldi that I should have received a letter to tell me I did not have to pay the fine but I didn't. "It has been such a pain. They shouldn't have been sending them out in the first place."

Andy Paul, head of Aldi PR, refused to comment on how many customers were affected.

But he did go on to say: "We do apologise for any inconvenience caused to our customers.

"We are looking into the matter internally and we are working with Parking Eye into the wrongfully issued fines and we are refunding customers."

A Parking Eye spokesman said: "It was a decision by us to refund the customers who had also received fines for the same thing."

The introductory period has now finished and the system is fully up and running.

Doc allowed to practise after fatal cancer errors

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A DOCTOR who failed to spot a patient's fatal cervical cancer eight times has been allowed to carry on practising.

Nikki Sams, 26, died in August 2007 after the cancer spread to her lungs, spine and neck despite repeated complaints of irregular bleeding and abdominal pain.

On Monday, a professional panel told Dr Navin Shankar, 59, his 'fitness to practise is impaired' after he ignored her requests for hospital checks and never performed an internal examination at Wigmore Lane Health Centre.

That was despite Nikki, who worked for this newspaper as a senior saleswoman, telling Dr Shankar in person eight times about her problems between November 1999 and July 2004.

She was eventually diagnosed with cervical cancer after she was transferred to another GP practice following Dr Shankar being suspended for a separate case of serious misconduct involving a nine-year-old baby.

But on Wednesday Dr Shankar was told he could carry on practising - despite having been found guilty of serious misconduct by a General Medical Council (GMC) panel - as long as he is 'closely supervised' and spends 18 months in NHS training practices. The GMC registers doctors to practise medicine in the UK and says its 'purpose is to protect, promote and maintain the health and safety of the public by ensuring proper standards in the practice of medicine'.

After the announcement Nikki's dad, Mike Sams, told Luton on Sunday: "I think that the verdict reached by the GMC is outrageous. How can Dr Shankar not have been 'struck off'?"

"It is completely beyond me. In my daughter's terribly sad case, he was found to have made so many serious errors.

"The basic performance assessment which he requested again showed him to be 'totally unsatisfactory' in his performance as a doctor. He failed this miserably.

"This leads to the question of just how bad doctors have to be before they are 'struck off', and why is their performance not monitored in some way? After all we are talking about life and death decisions here."

The GMC's director of standards and fitness to practise, Paul Philip, said: "The case of Nicola Sams is tragic and we want to express our sympathy to her family.

"Fitness to practice panels reach their decisions independently - having considered all the evidence - and the doctor has a right to appeal a decision to the High Court, so it would be inappropriate to comment on the individual circumstances of this case."

Two arrests as £3,000 of drugs seized in raid

TWO drug dealers were arrested and drugs valued at £3,000 seized during a police raid on Thursday.

Officers found more than 100 wraps of crack cocaine, methadone and a large amount of cash at a flat on Foxglove Way, Luton.

A man and a woman, both aged 30, were arrested at the scene for possession of Class A drugs with intent to supply.

They were both later bailed to return to Luton Police Station on October 11.

Drugs Field Intelligence officer Craig Gurr said: "This was a significant seizure of some of the drugs that are infesting our local community. We are currently building pictures of other drug dealers in the Luton area and it is our intention to make their lives very uncomfortable.

"I urge anyone who has information about drugs, drug dealers and places where they are sold, to contact us on our confidential hotline on 01582 39412."

Shock as figures reveal child, six, arrested for robbery

A SIX-YEAR-OLD arrested for robbery this year was one of 50 under-11s to be apprehended since 2007, we can reveal.

Of those arrested, 42 were aged ten, including one in 2008 for arson with intent to endanger life, and another for being in possession of a knife or sharply pointed article.

So far this year, two ten-year-olds have been arrested for assault occasioning ABH.

Another one was arrested for breach of bail conditions, with another for assault by beating. There were also three others arrested on charges of theft.

The most common arrest since 2007 has been for criminal damage to property valued under £5,000, for which 11 children aged ten have been arrested.

Of the younger offenders, three nine-year-olds were arrested for breach of the peace (as well as two ten-year-olds) in 2008.

An eight-year-old was arrested in 2007 for an attempted theft from a shop.

But 2008 was the worst year for arrests, with 22 children being arrested.

The figures, which were released on July 27 under the Freedom of Information Act, give no indication of what the specifics of each case are and how many different children were arrested.

A child under the age of ten cannot be prosecuted for a criminal offence.

A spokeswoman for The Children's Society said: "We have particular concerns about cuts in local government spending which could lead to the closure of innovative community schemes aimed at reducing youth offending."

Drugs bust leads to jail

A LABOURER who was found with hundreds of bags of cannabis has been jailed for 12 months.

Patrick Furey, 20, was sent to a young offenders institute but was expected to be released in a matter of weeks having spent 157 days on remand.

Furey, of Rueley Dell Road, Lilley, was found with the drugs during a police search of his home on February 19 and he was arrested and charged with possession.

He pleaded guilty at North Hertfordshire Magistrates' Court and admitted that he had breached his bail conditions for a previous charge of theft.

Prosecuting, Rebecca Smith, said police searched Furey's room which was an outbuilding of his family's home, and found a large amount of skunk cannabis hidden in shoe boxes.

There was a total of 162 small plastic bags containing between 1.59g and 2.5g of cannabis each.

Police estimated that it had a street value of between £3,000 and £4,000.

In interview, Furey admitted to police that the drugs were his but said he the drugs were partly for his own use as he was a heavy cannabis user.

He said that when he did sell, he sold the bags at a rate of £20 each from which he earned £100 per week.

Sentencing Furey on August 5, Judge Michael Kay QC issued no further penalty for a breach of bail conditions but ordered the destruction of the drugs.

Not much fun for farm animals...

SIR - I suggest Richard Shaw - who wrote to our sister paper LD Express on August 4 about 'unfair' farm animal cruelty accusations - is living in the past.

Animals are being kept in appalling conditions on factory farms and, yes Mr Shaw, it's cruelty on a barbaric level.

Farmers care deeply about their livestock. Really?

Is that because they make lots of money from them at the end?

Back in 1997 the Ministry of Agriculture, Fisheries and Food (MAFF) changed its name to DEFRA (the Department for Environment, Food and Rural Affairs) because for years it had trampled over democracy by seeing the interests of farmers and food producers as being far more important than those of consumers - and the scandal over BSE brought it to a head. Nothing changes.

Dairy farming will soon be on a massive scale where cows are in sheds on concrete never seeing the light of day.

They are kept permanently pregnant so that people can drink their milk.

Why?

Mothers' milk is for the babies and cows' milk is for the calves.

It's about time people weaned themselves off cows and got a better, dare I say healthier lifestyle and going cruelty-free into the bargain.

viva.org.uk will help you and Animal Aid or Hillside Animal Sanctuary can show you what really goes on in factory farming.

Mrs B Ram

... nor for many human beings

SIR - We call people who don't want to work lazy scroungers. But can you blame them?

Working today is like climbing a greasy pole.

In 2002, I was taking home

£315 a week. Then I was made redundant.

In my next job, I took home £197 per week - a drop of £118. It was actually costing me money to go to work.

I had to keep dipping into my redundancy pay, just to feed my family and pay the bills.

Do you know what it feels like, to go to work and not earn enough to support your family?

If you want to get people back to work, then pay them a living wage.

Can anyone answer this question - is it the case that people who are out of work are paid a lot of money in benefits?

Or is it that people who are in work are paid a pittance?

I know what I think.

John Tucker

Get behind Luton's bid for city status

SIR - I'm writing because I support the calls for city-status for our beloved Luton.

I've been living here in Luton since October 2004. From my observations, politically Luton has got potential.

Right now, we already have the largest population and we are the largest conurbation outside Greater London here in south-east England, with a very-strong ethnically diverse population of 200,000 residents which is set to increase to 250,000 or more.

I've done my politics homework and I understand that Luton played its part in and during the Industrial Revolution, which made England the world's biggest industrial power before that reputation was taken over by France, Germany, USA, Russia and Japan.

I also understood that some of the military vehicles, tanks, guns and weaponry used in the Great War of 1914/The Battle of Britain were manufactured right here in Luton.

Our airport is right now one of the UK's biggest airports and handles thousands upon thousands of passengers every day and every night.

Our carnival is also the biggest ethnically diverse carnival after the Notting Hill Carnival.

These are blessed achievements and if more money can be contributed in job creation, really I don't see why Luton cannot become a city.

So I am backing the calls for city status for Luton.

Leandro Roberts

It doesn't feel like crime is on the slide

SIR - So local people are not convinced that the crime levels in Luton are going down? Well I have to agree with them.

In fact, every time shoppers make their way to The Mall Luton shopping centre and are harassed by vagrants and alcoholics, that in itself is a crime.

But of course this sort of crime is what the local police cannot be bothered to deal with.

Then let's take another example whereby my local corner shop had an attempted robbery take place last summer whereby the individuals who run the shop fought violently with the five or six youths who attempted to rob the store. Baseball bats and punches were thrown.

The perpetrators of the attempted robbery ran past me with blood over their faces.

When I asked the shopkeepers if they reported the crime to the police, they said 'no, it wasn't worth it'.

So I in fact did myself to a local police special. Was this incident investigated? No. nothing came of it.

While the police may think the streets of Luton are safer, I myself will agree with the general thoughts of the town's folk and say the streets are worse than ever.

Trucks damaged in 'suspicious' blaze

SEVEN tipper trucks were badly damaged in a 'possibly suspicious' fire.

The vehicles were parked at the depot of Thomas Brothers in Nursery Road, Luton, where the flames engulfed them on August 6.

The police and the fire service were called to the company's premises at about 11.50pm where, upon arrival, five of the trucks were severely damaged. Two others were not hit so badly.

Detective Constable Lavern Charles said: "While it was quite late at night when police were alerted to the fire, we believe there may have been witnesses in the locality.

"If you were in or near Nursery Close on Friday between 11.00pm and midnight, did you see anybody hanging around the area, anything suspicious or vehicles parked in unusual or secluded locations?"

"If you did, no matter how trivial it may seem to you, we would like to hear from you."

Any witnesses or anyone with information they feel may help the police investigation, should contact DC Charles, in confidence, on 01582 394313, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

British railways are far from the world's envy

DEAR Philip Hammond, Secretary of State for Transport.

I have just returned from my holidays, which, in case you care, were very pleasant.

Part of my time away was in Italy and myself, my wife and seven-year-old daughter, had occasion to catch the train from Rome to Civitavecchia.

The distance of this journey is roughly equivalent to that from Bedford, where we live, to London. The cost, for the three of us, was 11.80 Euros, around £9.00. A second class single for two adults and a child from Bedford to London is £56.25. At off-peak it would still be £46.00.

I am sure the difference in price staggers you as much as it did me. The Italian train was on time, very comfortable, with larger seats and arm rests for all and very clean. There was plenty of space for luggage.

On my last three trips to London this year I have had to stand each time, in a scruffy, overcrowded train, which was late on one occasion and was cancelled on another, due to the lack of a driver.

Now I am aware that Italian trains used to be subsidised but that is apparently not the case any more.

They used also to be open to ridicule but have passed that mantle on to us. The cost difference and differences in quality of experience are, though, subsidy or not, quite incredible.

This does not just apply to Italy, as I have driven on trains across Europe and have yet to find a service as poor, or expensive as the English experience.

I am sure I do not need to remind you that the Conservative Government in the 1980s privatised the railways in this country, promising this would make them more efficient, more comfortable, better maintained and more competitively priced. You must agree, however reluctantly, that the opposite is now the case.

I recognise that a rag-bag of Labour Governments were in power for the last decade and may have driven the Conservative plan off course. I hear daily that almost everything else is their fault so can believe that they are culpable in this as well.

Still it does not sit well with your Government's old ideology of private industry-run good, state-run bad, or your new philosophy of a Big Society coupled with a cleaner environment, to have the worst run, most expensive train service in Europe.

I am writing to ask what your new Government has in mind, what you think of this situation and more importantly, what you plan to do about it.

I wish your new Government well and would be happy to help in any practical way to ensure that the British railway system is once again the envy of the world, rather than the laughing stock.

In case you are unfortunate enough not to receive a copy of Luton on Sunday, I have written this to you personally and copied in the relevant local MPs.

Yours, in hope and expectation,
Steve Lowe

Council pays consultant £54k for just four months work

A COUNCIL is paying up to around £54,000 for a transport consultant - for just FOUR months work.

Central Bedfordshire Council has recruited the employee at a rate of £683 a day through an agency - which it says is an 'average' rate for the type of role.

If the consultant works every day of the week, the council could pay £3,415 for five days work and then around £13,660 a month. This works out at more than £160,000 - which is thousands more than the Prime Minister's salary of £142,500.

They began working for the council on July 21 and will be employed for around four months.

Cops still looking for 15 men after football trouble

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

POLICE have identified five men wanted in connection with trouble at a Luton Town match.

On Wednesday, 20 CCTV images of people were released by officers investigating problems at the game at Kenilworth Road against York City on May 3.

After the match some Hatters fans invaded the pitch and coins were thrown at York supporters, police and club stewards.

Outside the ground, goods belonging to a hardware shop in Dunstable Road were stolen, damaged or used as missiles.

Since launching its CCTV appeal on Wednesday, Bedfordshire Police have been inundated with callers offering crucial information leading to names for a quarter of those it is looking to trace.

But the hunt is still to identify the remaining 15 – with two men in particular wanted by the force.

Police spokeswoman Sarah

WANTED: Do you recognise either of these men wanted in connection with trouble at the Luton Town v York City game last season?

Wilkinson said: "There are two men we'd really like to find. It would be especially helpful if we can identify them."

"So far we've had a brilliant response, with more than 3,000 hits on our website, which is a lot."

"The five for whom we now have names as a result of the appeal so far are in the process of being dealt with."

"Thanks to everyone so far who has been in touch with us, including Luton & Dunstable Express and Luton on Sunday."

Officers involved in the investigation can be contacted on 01582 394491, by emailing football.incident@Bedfordshire.pnn.police.uk, or via Crimestoppers, anonymously, on 0800 555 111.

To see pictures of the remaining 13 men wanted, visit www.bedfordshire.police.uk and click on 'Football Disturbance - Update And Appeal'.

David's fight to keep British fish swimming

PROFESSOR David Rawson and his team have so far taken nearly 700 samples from more than 100 species of fish living in British waters.

This is, however, only a third of the estimated number of fish that the group needs to collect for the Frozen Ark project.

The work, which is part of a worldwide project, will 'bank' these samples for future generations and will leave a frozen database of live cells and tissue in case any of the species become extinct.

Professor Rawson (pictured), who works at the LIRANS Institute of Research in the Applied Natural Sciences, based at the Butterfield Park campus in Luton, explains what the project is all about.

"Cryobiology is essentially the preservation of cells and tissues and a lot of work has gone into that area.

"In about 1990, we wanted to preserve some cells actually on to biosensor electrodes and the only way we thought we could do it was to freeze the cells using extreme low temperature cryopreservation.

"That led to a completely different programme of research in extreme low temperature biology, and cryopreservation of cells.

"We can freeze the sperm, egg and embryo of certain animal groups, like mammals, which means we can undertake assisted reproduction in those groups.

"However, we found a real problem with fish where we are unable to freeze eggs or embryos, only the sperm. Which means we can't use cryopreserved gametes to reproduce the species. In 1992, we started to look at why we can't freeze the eggs or embryos, and we are still working on this problem."

A DOCUMENTARY about a Butterfield-based university professor's research into cryobanking has just been aired on CNN. Here, Professor David Rawson talks to SOPHIE SCOTT about the pioneering worldwide Frozen Ark project, the danger British fish are in and climate change.

He explained how, with the samples they have now got, scientists have access to the full genetic data for the species and could be used to revitalise fish numbers if they were becoming extinct.

He said: "The Frozen Ark project is about fish that are in danger of extinction and we started to work with those species and then with all the fish in British waters, which is about 250 marine species and 50 freshwater species. Most of these are not considered to be highly endangered but about half a dozen including cod and skate are identified as being under threat and climate change is currently a serious risk."

Ever the controversial topic, climate change is something Professor Rawson believes is occurring.

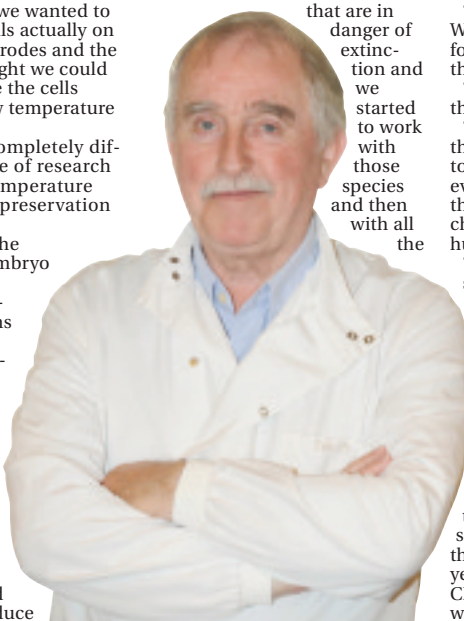

"Climate change is very real. We have seen fish normally found in the Mediterranean in the sea over here.

"That can only be because of the rise in water temperatures. "They will displace fish and the British species will be lost to us and that starts to put everything under pressure and then of course global climate change is exacerbated by humans.

"Pollution and over-fishing of such fish as cod means that it is quite likely that within 50 years some of the species will be extinct."

There are more than 30,000 known species of fish in the world and many more may swim undiscovered in the deepest, darkest parts of the ocean.

Professor Rawson said: "We are discovering new ones all the time but we are also losing species including possibly ones that we don't even know about yet." To watch the nine minute CNN documentary, visit www.cnn.com/earthsfrontiers

MURDERED: Waldemar Markuszewski, above, and his brother Andrzej Markuszewski, right

Documentary to follow detective's quest for justice

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A FILM documenting a real-life murder investigation in Luton will be shown on TV next week.

Double Murder: the Inside Story follows detectives as they hunt for the killers of two Polish brothers who had been brutally stamped to death.

The bodies of Waldemar Markuszewski, 43, and Andrzej Markuszewski, 46, were found at their home in Dunsmore Road, Luton on June 1, 2005.

Remiguiz Piotrowski and Marek Miazga were both convicted of the horrific murder and are now serving life sentences.

The events of the day started with a chilling 999 call from the woman who discovered the body.

She is heard saying: "Oh my god, oh my god, there's two of them dead."

This was the dramatic beginning of an extraordinary investigative saga.

It would take Detective Superintendent Andrew Richer, one of Britain's top detectives, all over Europe in search of justice and four years and £1.4 million to bring the murderers to justice.

As the emergency call came in, it so happened that a TV crew was on hand, in the process of making a documentary about a routine day with the Bedfordshire Police scenes of crime unit at Luton.

Within minutes, the crew was on its way to the incident with two scenes of crime officers and filmed there before the victims' lives were formally declared extinct - and almost daily for the next four years.

The result is a revelation. The film is a forensic record of the reality of a 21st century murder enquiry: a multi-disciplinary team effort utterly at odds with its fictional equivalent; it is a portrait of a real-life Bergerac or Morse, with Andrew Richer as a graduate in English literature with a penchant for quoting Shakespeare and an obsession with American football; and it's an uplifting tale of persistence, ingenuity, international co-operation and obfuscation and - eventually - justice.

Double Murder: the Inside Story will be shown on Sky's Crime and Investigation Network next Thursday at 9pm.

Academy project back on track as funding is found

BY LUI STRACCIA

lui.straccia@lutononsunday.co.uk

A £14.5 million academy rebuild project got the green light this week – after having been thrown into serious doubt.

Plans to redevelop All Saints Academy in Houghton Road, Dunstable, had looked in jeopardy last month when the new Coalition Government axed a national Building Schools for the Future scheme.

But the Department for Education has now reallocated funding for All Saints, and proposals will be administered through Central Bedfordshire Council.

The school's older buildings will be replaced with modern, purpose built structure 'better suited to the educational needs of pupils' while retaining some of the sports facilities.

Details of when funding will be released, exact plans for improvements and when work will commence are still to be announced.

All Saints' Academy Principal Tom Waterworth said: "The news that our building project will go ahead as originally envisaged is great news for the parents and students of Dunstable and Houghton Regis.

"We will have an academy building of which we will be very proud. My thanks go to all stakeholders for their untiring efforts to make sure that the building programme goes ahead as originally planned."

Cllr Anita Lewis said: "This news will kickstart a process in Dunstable to bring learning into the 21st Century."

South West Bedfordshire MP Andrew Selous, who has lobbied for All Saints to retain the funding, said: "I am thrilled that the programme at All Saints can go ahead. They will now in time have a building complementing the excellent teaching that the school has to offer."

Woman, 21, acquitted on cat-fight stabbing charge

A YOUNG woman broke down in tears when a jury cleared her of a serious charge of stabbing another female.

Natasha Zeolla, 21, had clutched a Bible during her two-day trial at Luton Crown Court.

She had pleaded not guilty to wounding Vanessa Jones with intent to cause grievous bodily harm at a house in Luton on July 9 last year.

The jury heard that the two women were at a friend's house in Fourth Avenue, Sundon Park, 'chilling out' – but ended up in a cat fight during which they admitted punching and biting each other.

The householder broke them up and asked them to leave, but the jury heard conflicting accounts of what happened next.

The prosecution alleged Miss Zeolla took a large knife from the kitchen, made a threat to kill Miss Jones and then stabbed her in the side of her stomach. She spent two days in hospital.

But the defendant, who at the time was living at Green Court, Luton, said the householder waved a knife at her and she grabbed it, and then she was assaulted from behind by Miss Jones and the knife caught her as she defended herself.

Miss Zeolla was not arrested until December when she was found living near Hastings.

The jury took less than an hour to return a unanimous not guilty verdict on Wednesday.

Another member of drug gang found guilty

A SEVENTH member of the drug gang arrested in Lewsey Farm in September last year has been found guilty.

Michael Birch, 20, of Rush Court, Leighton Buzzard, was remanded in custody at Luton Crown Court last Wednesday and will be sentenced next month for his part in a major organised crime gang.

He is one of nine people who were arrested in a huge police operation codenamed Paddle - which followed months of surveillance and intelligence gathering.

More than 400 officers were involved in the arrests in September, many of them armed, in raids that took them to 23 properties in Luton, Stevenage, Milton Keynes and Leighton Buzzard. The gang were involved in supplying cocaine and other Class A drugs to Luton and south Bedfordshire.

During the raids a firearm, drugs and cash were found, and dangerous chemicals found at one house thought to be used in the production of drugs necessitated the evacuation of all the residents until it was made safe.

One of the gang, Niall McErlane, 20, from Moorland Gardens, Luton, was recently found guilty of murdering Houghton Regis resident Richard Long in a row about drugs. His identity has been prohibited by the court up until now for legal reasons but can now be revealed.

He had been charged with conspiracy to supply class A drugs as part of this operation but as he is now serving 26 years for murder, the courts have ordered this charge to lie on file, rather than proceed with it.

The other members of the gang, who pleaded guilty at earlier hearings, were:

■ Mark Birch, 24, of Chatsworth Court, Stevenage, pleaded guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs, namely Cocaine and Diamorphine.

■ Cliveroy Birch, 20, of Park Street, Luton, pleaded guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs.

■ Fabreece Mullins, 18, of

Huckleberry Close, Walnut Tree, Milton Keynes, pleaded guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs

■ Alicia Murphy, 22, of Chatsworth Court, Stevenage, pleaded guilty to money laundering.

■ Ori Cyrille, 19, of Wedgewood Road, Luton, pleaded guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs.

■ Mohan Rahman, 23, of Strangers Way, Luton, pleaded not guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs.

DI Ged McCarthy, who led Operation Paddle, said: "Far from being popular or glamorous, their lifestyle and methods were abhorrent to local people and the community gave us a lot of support during the enforcement phase of this operation."

One person has outstanding charges against him in respect of this operation and has failed to answer his bail or attend court for his trial.

Gary Burke, 22, of Osborne Road, Luton, has pleaded not guilty to two counts of Conspiracy to Supply Class A Drugs. He is now wanted by police and anyone who knows his whereabouts is asked to contact police immediately. Information can be given to police anonymously via Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Mobility to be boosted by 'one-stop' scheme

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A NEW 'one-stop' community health service has been launched.

The scheme, which will be available at convenient locations to help keep people mobile and active, was opened at the Chaul End Centre in Dunstable Road, Luton.

The Community Musculoskeletal Service (CMS) provides a range of help and treatments at health and community centres.

Common conditions likely to be treated in the new service include repetitive strain injury, frozen shoulder, tendon injuries, back pain, osteoporosis and chronic pain of the joints.

First appointments are offered quickly compared with other, older systems, and the 'one-stop' nature of the CMS means that a patient may be seen, assessed and treated at the same service.

At the CMS patients can see a range of doctors, nurses and other health professionals such as consultants, physiotherapists and X-ray staff without having to make several appointments on different days in different clinics.

The centre was created by NHS Luton, Luton & Dunstable Hospital and Luton Borough Council.

Speeches on the launch day were given by new L&D Hospital chief executive Pauline Philip and council boss Trevor Holden.

WORDS OF ADVICE: Gail Donaldson holding a will

Solicitor warns of 'will writer' cons

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A SOLICITORS firm has advised people to ensure they are not being conned when they draw up their will.

Gail Donaldson, from Neves, which has an office in George Street West, Luton, said 'will writers' are not solicitors, after the problem was highlighted on the BBC's Panorama on Monday.

In a secret filming undertaken for the programme, an elderly couple was not told the details of charges which were confusingly set out in writing, but then taken away by the will writer.

Since the documentary was aired, Ms Donaldson said the fear of costs prompts some people to use will writers as opposed to firms such as hers.

She said: "Solicitors are required to set out in writing the basis of their charges, and in many cases wills are undertaken for a fixed fee with free storage of wills and other documents.

"This programme highlights the potential for getting it wrong without full legal advice and the need for proper regulation of will writers.

"It can be very costly to undo after you have gone and can leave your family in disarray when they have to pick up the pieces as problems generally only come to light when you have died."

Research by consumer group Which? found the average fee for a will drafted by a solicitor to be £130.

But will writers, who charge £107, do not have to undergo any training, do not have insurance, and are not regulated.

If they go out of business, there is little that can be done. Sometimes the will cannot be found, even where charges have been made for storing it.

Man jailed for biting neighbour

BY JULIA SUTTON
editor@LSNmedia.co.uk

A YOUNG father who bit a neighbour's face when tensions between them boiled over, has been jailed for eight months.

Chamberlain, 28, of Mill Street, Luton, pleaded guilty to assaulting Ryan Ward on March 7 this year.

Judge Michael Kay QC told David Chamberlain: "If this had just been punching that would be serious enough.

"But it is the biting near the eye which really troubles me, it was vicious."

Prosecutor Gavin Pottinger told Luton Crown Court on Monday that the men were neighbours in Kingsland Road, Luton and their partners had fallen out with each other.

Acrimonious text messages and threats had been made.

On March 7, after Chamberlain had been drinking at a family social, he went to confront Mr Ward and punched him to the ground, then bit him on the face.

When police arrived he is alleged to have said: "I did it. I did wrong but he deserved it."

James Rouse, defending, said: "To his eternal shame he let the situation get the better of him."

"He became embroiled and lost his temper."

"His partner was pregnant at the time and he felt very protective towards her."

The barrister said Chamberlain's son was born just nine days before his court appearance and urged the court to suspend the sentence.

Judge Kay said the bite mark was near the eye, and caused blood to flow and required a number of stitches.

He said: "It is quite clear this was a premeditated attack."

Do you recognise him? If so, let the police know as they would like to talk to him.

Novelli's Angels in fundraising walk

BY SOPHIE SCOTT

sophie.scott@lutononsunday.co.uk

A MIDNIGHT walk to raise money for Keech is being backed by celebrity chef Jean Christophe Novelli.

Mr Novelli has joined forces with the I Love Dunstable Team to create 'Novelli's Angels'.

They will have an army of Angels doing the Midnight Walk in Luton on Saturday, September 4 and Mr Novelli will be there himself to open the walk.

They hope to raise lots of cash and awareness for Keech Hospice Care where both he and his fiancée Michelle are ambassadors.

Many of the Angels have lost loved ones who have been cared for at Keech Hospice Care and are all looking forward to spreading their wings and polishing their halos for this fantastic charity event.

The hospice is based in Streatley, Luton and provides palliative care for children and adults from Bedfordshire, Hertfordshire and Milton Keynes.

Michelle Kennedy, fiancée of Jean Christophe and Kerrie Duggan, co-founder of I Love

Dunstable have been cooking up this idea for a few months now and are delighted that this plan is finally taking shape.

Mr Novelli (pictured) said: "The love and care the Keech team show is extraordinary and we want to help in any we can."

"I am very proud of Michelle and all of my angels for all of the effort they are putting into the event. I am very pleased to be starting the walk and I am looking forward to meeting you all there."

Kerrie lost her grandmother to lung cancer back in May and she was looked after at Keech Hospice Care during her final days.

Kerrie said: "Keech Hospice Care is a little piece of heaven and the nurses are all angels, that is what gave us this idea. Michelle and I are both touched by what they do there. Their dedication and love for what they do is unmatched really."

The Midnight Walk will take place at Barnfield College, Luton on September 4. If you would like to sponsor the Novelli's Angels visit the Virgin Money Giving Page at <http://uk.virginmoneygiving.com/team/NovellisAngels>.

To sign up visit www.keech.org.uk/midnightwalk; call the Fundraising Team on 01582 707940 or pick up a leaflet from one of the Keech shops.

Ever dreamed of owning a holiday home? Now's the time to buy... Prices slashed for special Summer event

Three stunning parks, three stylish new homes, three extras thrown in for free

The owners of three of the Midlands' most sought after destinations are celebrating an open event with a trio of tempting offers.

Leading holiday home provider Pure Leisure Group is hosting a series of open weekends throughout August at Billing Aquadrome and Cogenhoe Mill Caravan Park, in Northampton, as well as at Silverhill Holiday Park in Lincolnshire.

Whether you're looking for somewhere to take the family for a fun-filled holiday, a tranquil riverside getaway or a secluded second home that's ideally placed for exploring some of Britain's finest countryside, the three sites cater for everyone.

What's more, a special offer running during the open weekends could see you in a luxury new holiday home from as little as £29,995 with free site fees for the remainder of 2010, free insurance for a year and a free starter pack of crockery and cutlery all thrown in!

During the promotion, Pure Leisure Group will be offering three brand new models at the fantastic price: The ABI St. David, Carnaby Melrose and Swift Burgundy, which all come with a choice of two or three bedrooms.

With warmer weather and sunny summer's evenings there has never been a better time to buy.

If you're looking for plenty to see and do all year round, Billing Aquadrome is the perfect location. Set within nearly 250 acres of beautiful countryside, it is one of the UK's largest holiday parks and boasts unrivalled facilities including the newly unveiled £5 million Pure Aqua complex which features a 400 seat restaurant and bar overlooking the marina, a pool, slides, whirlpool and children's play area.

There are also nine fishing lakes, an all-new miniature railway, crazy golf, and guests and owners on the parkland site can choose from an array of restaurants and shops which are dotted around the beautifully-kept grounds.

There are more exciting plans in the pipeline at Billing too – as well as a 49 luxury lodge development on the exclusive Goose Island being under way, a gym and cabaret venue are next on the list.

Just a five minute drive from Billing Aquadrome sits Cogenhoe Mill Holiday Park – a secluded getaway on the banks of the River Nene. For those with a boat there are around 30 moorings available on a quiet backwater and it's a haven for fishermen or anyone wanting somewhere picturesque and peaceful to recharge their batteries.

Similar tranquillity can be found at Silverhill Caravan Park in the heart of the Lincolnshire Wolds near Spalding. Ideal for exploring some of Britain's finest countryside, it's just 45 minutes from some of Norfolk's finest coastline and is a stone's throw from the Cambridgeshire Fens.

There is a brand new bar on-site and golfing fans benefit from links to Tydd St Giles Golf and Leisure Estate, which is also owned by Pure Leisure Group and sits just seven miles away.

Luxury lake-side holiday homes at Billing Aquadrome

Luton grandmother Sally Roberts, who owns a country retreat at Billing with husband Graham, said: "Graham's job can be very stressful at times so it's lovely to pack a little bag and escape at the weekends. Billing's got some fantastic facilities, the grounds are beautifully kept and everyone's so friendly. We're now very popular with the grandchildren, who love coming to stay."

Holiday home consultant Andy Crowe added: "All three parks have something special to offer and we've got some great deals on during the open event for new caravan holiday homes. Occasionally there are opportunities to buy previously enjoyed homes too, so please don't leave it too late to enquire."

For more information on the event or holiday home enquiries in general, telephone 0800 652 3856 or visit www.pureleisuregroup.co.uk or www.billingaquadrome.com

Your advantage in property

Always look on the bright side of life...

THE media is buzzing with reports of slow sales and falling house prices and it would be tempting to assume that the future looks gloomy.

However, these things always come in waves and it will probably not be long before we look back at this time and wonder what all the fuss is about.

From a buyer's perspective, the question is whether this is a good time to buy because prices have fallen, or a bad time to buy on the basis that they might fall further. Oddly it is probably both, for several reasons.

Firstly, we should look at things in perspective and understand that there is a difference between a regular buyer and a professional property investor.

Certainly investors are currently doing well as they take advantage of the fact that many sellers are now more likely to accept low offers from cash buyers.

But from a 'normal' buyer's perspective, in some ways it wouldn't matter if prices were to fall further after having bought because, presumably, you wouldn't be selling.

The value of a property is only relevant when it is on the market, just as the tourist exchange rate for the Euro is only really relevant when you cross The Channel.

There is also some comfort to be taken from the fact that the long-term trend for prices has always been upwards, so any fall could be expected to be followed by another rise before you move on in, say, four or five years time.

So any immediate 'losses' would probably have been cancelled out while you have been enjoying your home.

With rising rents, property ownership remains a foundation of our personal satisfaction and security.

The key is to take advantage of the choice available to you, buy somewhere you can really call home and ignore short-term price fluctuations, knowing that the roof over your head is your own.

x NIKKI x

*It's been three years since you've gone,
But the pain still carries on,
In every laugh, smile and tear,
We will feel your still near.
As pure and innocent as a dove,
We know that you were filled with pure love,
We enjoyed the time we shared together,
And stuck by each other whatever the weather.
Love always,
Yvonne, Jackie & Len*

It don't mean a thing if it ain't got that jazzy swing

BIG BAND MUSIC

IN THE MOOD WITH FIVE STAR SWING

Village Hall, Barton-le-Clay
Thursday, August 26, 7.30pm

FOLLOWING their recent performance at Dame Vera Lynn's Charity Ball in London, the In the Mood show will be making a matinee appearance in Barton-le-Clay.

Former Ivy Benson musician Simone Smith and her husband, Chris (from the band of Glenn Miller's brother, Herb), feature in the show which boasts a host of classic Big Band/Swing songs from artists such as Frank Sinatra and Glenn Miller through to 'Jools Holland' style jazz.

Chris said: "I've been brought up with this style of music as my father (Chris Smith Snr) played trombone for Frank Sinatra on his European tours.

"It's great that there's a strong resurgence in jazz and swing music enjoyed by all generations.

"We were very pleased to perform for BBC's Children In Need and the runners-up of ITV's Strictly Dance Fever.

"We're looking forward to bringing the show to town."

Simone, who sings and plays lead Alto Saxophone in the band, has also played with prestigious artists such as Paul Weller, John Williams, Ivy Benson Show Band and a saxophone solo on the Paul Merton TV show.

Chris, who also sings and plays the trumpet and piano, is well known in the jazz world for his arrangements and compositions frequently played on Jazz FM and BBC Radio 2. His varied career includes performances on Top of the Pops, Breakfast TV with Herb Miller and a solo performance on the Michael Caine film Silver Bears.

STEPHEN TOMPKINSON'S AUSTRALIAN BALLOON ADVENTURE

ITV1, 7pm

Stephen Tompkinson embarks on another hot air balloon adventure, this time across Australia. He'll be accompanied by pilot Robin Bachelor, as well as a dedicated team of intrepid volunteers. # America's Got Talent Texan tenors' tour hits town

MUSIC

THE TEXAS TENORS

The Alban Arena, St Albans
Sunday, September 12, 7.30pm

THE Texas Tenors are searching for a choir to join them on the stage part of their first ever UK tour.

More than 100 million people from around the world tuned into 'America's Got Talent', last season, to see trio, who were voted 2009's Vocal Group of the Year.

Now, for the very first time, they are touring the UK. And they are now searching for choirs in the towns and cities they are performing at.

The incredible voices of these classically trained Tenors, JC, Marcus and John, perform the most romantic songs of the last century and bring their unique blend of gospel, country, classical and Broadway to the stage with breathtaking vocals, humour and a hint of cowboy charm.

JC is the ever romantic Tenor with his interpretations of classic Neapolitan love songs; Marcus brings a contemporary feel to the group and John, who is simply The Tenor.

Together they create harmonies as smooth as silk and a sound to satisfy the soul. From well-loved arias, to show songs, from 'Nessun Dorma' to 'My Way', The Texas Tenors cover every genre of music effortlessly.

These three childhood friends have carved fantastic careers in their own right, as actors and classical soloists, and since 'America's Got Talent' they have combined to create the ultimate vocal sound.

If you would like to sing with them on stage, or would like any further information on how your choir can take part then email admin@theatre-productions.com

Fun for all the family at RSPB's wildlife day

NATURE

RSPB FAMILY FUN DAY

Stockwood Discovery Centre, Luton
Wednesday, 11am-3.30pm

HELPING nature and wildlife is at the heart of an exciting family fun event in Luton this week.

The RSPB has teamed up with Stockwood Discovery Centre to run a family fun day as part of its RSPB Homes for Wildlife work.

The day will give visitors the chance to talk to experts from the RSPB and other wildlife organisations about how to make their gardens and neighbourhoods more inviting for birds, insects and mammals.

There will also be lots of hands-on wildlife themed craft activities for children including colouring and making dragonflies and making food for birds.

Launched in 2008, the RSPB's Homes for Wildlife gives straightforward advice on how to make the most of your outdoor space for nature, whether you have a large garden or just a balcony.

It aims to help all wildlife including many declining garden bird species in the UK such as blackbirds, house sparrows and song thrushes.

Catherine MacLeod-Smith, RSPB Development Officer, said: "The Homes for Wildlife campaign has shown people that making small changes in the way they care for their outdoor space, can make a big difference for the wildlife that lives there."

"We are pleased to be working with Stockwood Discovery Centre on this event and look forward to sharing our wildlife knowledge with visiting adults and children on the day."

Entrance to the event is £1.50 for adults and children or £1 for RSPB members. Activities are free. Pre-booking not required. For more information call 07768 632249 or email Catherine.macleod-smith@rspb.org.uk.

Find out all there is to know about bats and their fascinating lives

ANIMALS

BATS IN THE BELFRY

Wardown Park Museum, Old Bedford Road, Luton
Now until Friday, August 20

OKAY, it's not really a belfry, but there are bats in the loft.

Now visitors have a chance to find out all about these fascinating creatures with a new display on bats in Luton and Bedfordshire that has just been installed.

The small exhibition is located in the museum tea room and has lots of information and many photos about the different species of bats.

This exhibition has been produced by members of the Bedfordshire Bat Group, who are busy raising the profile of bats in the Luton area thanks to funding from the National Lottery. The Bat Conservation Trust has kindly donated leaflets which are available free from the museum for the duration of the exhibition, which runs until August 20.

Do you want to know more about the bats in the loft at the museum?

Youngsters are invited to come and find out about these fascinating creatures at the event day tomorrow from 11am to 3.30pm.

At the event you can find out what you can do to help Luton's bat population and get tips for spotting them in the wild.

Participating children will be able to make their very own bat to hang up at home.

Milner strike starts Villa's post-O'Neill era

JAMES MILNER turned the jeers to cheers after his strike sealed a comprehensive 3-0 victory over West Ham in what could be his final appearance for Aston Villa.

The England international appears to be on the verge of signing for Manchester City in a deal believed to be worth £30 million.

Milner's second-half strike at the Holte End brought Villa Park to its feet.

Villa were already well in the ascendancy, courtesy of first-half goals from Stewart Downing and Stilian Petrov, as they proved there can be life after Martin O'Neill.

Birmingham scored two goals in the final

BARCLAYS PREMIER LEAGUE

Round-up

12 minutes to secure a 2-2 draw against Sunderland at the Stadium of Light.

Darren Bent gave the hosts the lead from the penalty spot, before Stephen Carr's own goal. Lee Cattermole had been sent off in the first half for the hosts and Birmingham took full advantage with goals from Scott Dann and Liam Ridgeway.

Manchester City produced an indifferent performance in a 0-0 draw at Tottenham. City survived a first-half Spurs onslaught as Joe Hart fully justified his new status as number one with a series of good saves.

Blackburn striker Nikola Kalinic grabbed the winner to stun Everton at Ewood Park. He took advantage of a blunder from Tim Howard to give his side a 1-0 victory.

A moment of brilliance from David Jones and a debut goal for Steven Fletcher gave Wolves a deserved victory over Stoke. Stoke replied with an Abdoulaye Faye header but record signing Kenwyne Jones limped off after 13 minutes.

Fulham made a quiet start to life under Mark Hughes, drawing 0-0 with Bolton.

Holloway laps up Tangerine dream

BLACKPOOL towered over the Premier League after a sensational return to top flight life as they destroyed hapless Wigan.

The team Ian Holloway has constructed on half a shoe-string proved to be too well organised, too determined and frankly too good for a Wigan outfit bereft of any quality remotely acceptable at this level of the game.

In their first appearance at the highest level since 1971, Blackpool struck three times before the break to effectively wrap up the points in quite staggering fashion.

New-boy Marlon Harewood scored twice after Gary Taylor-Fletcher had put the visitors in front. Alex Baptiste profited from more wretched goalkeeping by Chris Kirkland to ensure Wigan were well and truly squashed by this group of Tangerines and draw ironic chants of "Bring on the Arsenal" from the visiting supporters, who head for the Emirates next week.

Blackpool's party began when the excellent Charlie Adam found Harewood, Brett Ormerod made his way across the box, dragging a couple of defenders with him before allowing the ball to run on to Taylor-Fletcher at the far-post. A second should have followed when Harewood was sent clean through, only for Kirkland to make a good save.

WIGAN ATHLETIC 0
BLACKPOOL 4

The next time Harewood got hold of the ball, he tried his luck from the edge of the area. Kirkland appeared to have the effort covered but somehow allowed the ball to slip through his grasp.

Boos from the home support turned into full-scale dissension two minutes before the break when Kirkland failed to hold a Elliott Grandin effort and Harewood tapped home the rebound.

That Wigan improved after the break was not saying much.

Steve Gohouri had a goal incorrectly disallowed at the start of the second period that might have made a difference and Mauro Boselli saw his angled header clip the bar.

Blackpool will have their own bad days this season, maybe even worse ones than Wigan endured.

But that sea of orange will gorge on this incredible day for a long time, and when Baptiste caught Kirkland out with a shot from the touchline that crept in at the near-post, it left them looking down on the Premiership's big boys.

SHOCKER: Blackpool's Marlon Harewood celebrates with Elliott Grandin

Hodgson feels no pressure

TODAY'S ACTION

LIVERPOOL V ARSENAL 4pm, Sky

EXPECTATIONS are not a great concern for Liverpool manager Roy Hodgson as he prepares for the first real test of his six-week reign today.

Arsenal, a perennial top-four side, visit a club which occupied a similarly lofty perch until last season.

A seventh-placed finish, no Champions League, a change of manager – and potentially a change of owner – may have altered perceptions outside Anfield's walls. However, that has little bearing on how Hodgson views his first season in charge at Liverpool.

"There are always expectations. Who knows what's realistic?" said Hodgson.

"The experienced players and coaching staff here know we cannot do anything about expectations being thrust at us.

"All we can do is try to prepare each week to play a good game of football and try to win it."

Fergie: My fears over anti-Glazer campaign

SIR ALEX FERGUSON has called for unity at Manchester United, fearing the campaign against the Glazer family could hurt the team's performances.

Although the Red Knights' hopes of seizing control at Old Trafford are on hold, vociferous supporter groups are keen to step up their own campaign.

"Fans are entitled to protest as they see fit. But not to the detriment of the team," said Ferguson.

"The fact is that the Glazer family own Manchester United and until such time as they decide they want to sell, they will stay as owners regardless of the opposition."

Rovers lose their first game of the new campaign

BARTON ROVERS 1 SLOUGH TOWN 2

ROVERS suffered a slender 2-1 opening day defeat away to Slough Town.

The hosts opened the scoring via a fine volleyed effort early in the first half and then doubled their lead with a far post tap in as they dominated the first period.

Despite the two goal deficit Gary Fitzgerald's men pressed for a route back into the match in the second half and were eventually rewarded when Bilal Hassan rounded the keeper and slotted the ball home.

As the heavens opened, Rovers pressed forward but were unable to force an equaliser.

Rovers play their first home game of the season against Soham Town Rangers on Tuesday evening with a 7.45pm kick-off.

Smith goal puts Green in next round

ROYSTON TOWN 1 CRAWLEY GREEN 2

A MARK Smith header from a corner on 86 minutes sealed a comeback win, enabling Crawley Green to progress to the next round.

The hosts had taken an early lead within four minutes, but Aaron Wilson equalised on 38 minutes following the sending off of a Royston player for a second yellow card.

This was a good result for a depleted Crawley side who were missing six regulars from midweek.

BOWERS & PITSEA 4 DUNSTABLE TOWN

THE Blues crashed out of the FA Cup at the hands of their Essex-based opponents.

The hosts dominated the early exchanges and sprung the offside trap on 32 minutes to take a slender half-time lead.

Ryan Smith was introduced at the interval and had a good early opportunity to equalise.

James Potter, who had already gone close twice, eventually did find the net on 53 minutes, capitalising on a goalkeeping error to lob the equaliser.

The hosts, however, scored the all important next goal on 70 minutes and sealed the win with further goals on 80 and 85 minutes.

Five goals in 22 minutes down Brache Sparta

BRACHE SPART 2 MURSLEY UNITED 5

IN Spartan South Midlands League 1 Brache Sparta suffered a 5-2 home defeat at the hands of Mursley United.

The visitors took a five-goal lead within 22 minutes, Michael Caldwell reduced the deficit from the penalty spot on 57 minutes and Steve Blackett added a second on 65 minutes.

Meanwhile AFC Dunstable succumbed to a harsh last minute penalty to lose 3-2 at Sun Postal Sports.

Daniel Liddon opened the scoring on 30 minutes and Craig Butler scored an 85th minute equaliser before the late drama.

BLUE SQUARE BET PREMIER

LUTON TOWN 2
ALTRINCHAM 1

MATTHEW Barnes-Homer stamped his place as the striker to lead Luton Town's assault on the Blue Square Bet Premier this season after his 88th minute screamer grabbed all three points in what should have been a comfortable opening day win over Altrincham.

The winner came as a huge relief for Hatters fans who had seen their side dominate proceedings with Kdenek Kroca scoring a debut goal to give Luton a first-half lead before a Damian Reeve equaliser for the Robins with 20 minutes remaining.

Neither team came out all guns blazing but Luton started the brighter of the two and came close to creating a chance shortly after four minutes. Andy Drury ripped through the Altrincham defence but his cross from just inside the Robins' penalty box evaded everyone.

Altrincham's first sight on goal came in the tenth minute but Ryan Brown's 45-yard free-kick lacked both pace and accuracy to trouble Mark Tyler in the Luton goal.

On 19 minutes, Luton had their first real chance to score. Barnes-Homer latched on to Kevin Gallen's flick-on and whipped the ball to Drury at the back post, but Stuart Coburn got down well to smother the winger's effort.

Three minutes later Luton took a deserving lead. Keith Keane's right-sided corner was headed back across the face of goal by George Pilkington where Kroca was waiting to nod in from less than five yards on his first Blue Square Bet Premier appearance for the Hatters.

Half-hearted claims for a Luton Town penalty were dashed by referee Thompson on 27 minutes after Marc Joseph appeared to push Drury in the centre of the box.

Moments later, Jake Howells burst into the visitors' box but fired his shot well wide of Coburn's goal.

Five minutes before the break, Shaun Densmore prevented Luton from going two up by heading over Barnes-Homer's left-side cross just in front of a well-positioned Howells who was waiting to nod in from four yards.

After a seven-minute period of Luton possession, the Hatters had their first effort of the second half. Drury's cutback cross was blasted goalwards by Howells but straight into the arms of Coburn.

Luton started to turn the screw with chances falling to both Adam Murray and Gallen. Murray blazed over after Gallen knocked Barnes-Homer's cross into the midfielder's path and then, moments later, Gallen headed wide from Drury's cross leaving the striker with his head in his hands.

Barnes-Homer was in inspiring form for the hosts and on 62 minutes had two attempts to extend the Hatters lead.

The striker drove forward and let off a firing shot from outside the area only for the Robins' stopper to parry the ball back into the path of the forward, but Barnes-Homer's header was off target.

Four minutes later, Altrincham had a rare sight at goal but Ryan Brown, who has previously had Football League experience with Port Vale, hit his free-kick just a few inches too high of Tyler's goal.

Against the run of play, Altrincham were level on 70 minutes. Reeves reacted quickly to head Michael Welch's flick-on past

seals a deserved win game of new season

Tyler who couldn't keep the ball from crossing the line despite getting a touch.

Luton reacted with a new-found sense of urgency and seven minutes later, Barnes-Homer rose highest to meet Drury's right-sided cross but the striker's looping header fell the wrong side of the right post before Danny Crow had his shot from 30 yards blocked by two Altrincham defenders.

Frustration was kicking in and Barnes-Homer's late challenge on Welch earned the striker Luton's first yellow card of the season.

With the final whistle fast approaching, Crow should have restored Luton's lead but the ex-Cambridge United striker's header whistled over.

Two minutes from time Barnes-Homer scored a fantastic strike from outside the box causing Kenilworth Road to erupt into song until the final whistle and save Luton from dropping two points in what would have been a disappointing draw.

Matthew makes mark for perfect Town start

MATTHEW Barnes-Homer struck a spectacular last minute winner to hand Luton Town an opening day 2-1 victory over Altrincham.

Czech summer signing Zdenek Kroca had given the Hatters an early lead, glancing in a header on 22 minutes to claim a goal on his competitive debut.

Damian Reeves equalised for the visitors on 70 minutes and Town looked to have been heading for a another draw against the part timers.

But former Kidderminster Harriers striker Barnes-Homer thumped in his first league goal of the season with two minutes to spare to send Kenilworth into raptures.

Turn inside for a full match report.

Hill given nod as county head into title showdown

BEDFORDSHIRE have called up 22-year-old batsman Guy Hill for the game which will decide whether they are crowned Minor County Eastern Division champions.

The final round of matches starts today with Bedfordshire, who are third, taking on second-placed Lincolnshire at Grantham and leaders Suffolk playing Cumberland, who are fourth, at Sedburgh School. Just 13 points separate first from fourth so any one of these counties can lift the title.

Hill, who has been captaining the county development 11, gets his chance because Robbie Keogh, Dan Bendon and James Kettleborough are all playing representative cricket.

In Kettleborough's case though, it is hard to see why Middlesex should consider that the Bedford School captain playing for their Under 19s would be of more benefit to his development than playing Minor County cricket, the second tier of the game in this country. Kettleborough is a member of the Middlesex academy.

It's a tough fixture for which Hill has been chosen to make his debut, but he has been in good form for the development team and the selectors have obviously been impressed by his temperament.

For the most part this season, Bedfordshire have plumpped for youth, but for this game they have recalled veteran all-rounder Andy Roberts to replace Keogh at Grantham. Roberts has taken close to 300 wickets and scored more than 4,600 runs for the county.

Also back into the side comes Martin Weightman who played a big part in the win over Hertfordshire two matches back, scoring 73 from 64 balls.

He will also be part of a four-man pace attack with Adam Shepherd, Colin Griggs and Will Sneath. The Grantham wicket is expected to be favourable to seam bowling.

With Matt Barnes ruled out because of a finger injury and Keogh playing for Northamptonshire seconds, it is not clear who will open the batting with George Thurstance against Lincolnshire.

It could be that wicket keeper George Arblaster will be asked to fulfil the role, although that would be asking a lot if Bedfordshire bat second and Arblaster has spent 90 overs behind the stumps.

Play starts today and continues tomorrow and Tuesday, and the selected Bedfordshire side is: Oliver Clayson, George Arblaster, George Thurstance, Andy Reynoldson, Oliver Swann, Andy Roberts, Guy Hill, Martin Weightman, Adam Shepherd, Will Sneath, Colin Griggs.
